

Todd's Railfan Guide to Baltimore MD

East Baltimore
Highlandtown and Canton

MAP 10

Note: Map Not to Scale

FACTOID:
Despite that four of the major yards in Baltimore are on this map, there really isn't all that much to do - Mainline action on the CSX is fairly easy to be had, but Corridor shots are difficult to get because so much is built up around it, and fences take care of the rest.

 - ✓ Nice Photo Spots

Access to most NS operations is tough, because the engines usually lay over in the middle and there is no good photo spot.

Consolidated Coal - all of their stuff is on private property

Almost all of the grade crossings with the Canton RR are good photo spots.

Stopping on the 95 or 895 bridges is not a real good idea, because the Toll Police are always cruising.
